GNO BACK NINE EVENT RAISES NEARLY $8,000 TO SUPPORT SUICIDE PREVENTION AND EDUCATION

PUNTA GORDA, Fla. (May 19, 2017) – On April 8th, Girls Night Out (GNO) held their Back Nine BSO in Port Charlotte. This April's event raised $7,817.00 for the Fred Lang Foundation (FLF) to support suicide prevention & education for programs through Charlotte Behavioral Health Care (CBHC).

“Through our events, GNO is proud to raise money for so many worthy causes in our community,” said Jill Ferguson, GNO member and Fred Lang Foundation board member. “With the suicide rates in Charlotte County being one of the highest in our state, prevention and education initiatives are of utmost importance.”

“Suicide prevention and education programs are not funded by the state, so monies are desperately needed to continue these programs in our community,” said Miranda Fields, GNO member and Fred Lang Foundation president. “We are so grateful that our community came out to support the cause by attending the event.”
